

The attached document is part of a mass mailing. The number of identical documents as specified in the File Number/City, St. field have been received by the Commission on this same date. You may view the documents at the FCC Reference Information Center, at 445 12th Street, SW, Washington, DC, Room CY-A257.

SAVE THE INTERNET.com

FILED/ACCEPTED

DEC 14 2010

Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary

December 14, 2010

Chairman Julius Genachowski
Office of the Chairman
Federal Communications Commission
445 12th St., SW
Washington, DC 20554

EX PARTE OR LATE FILED

Dear Chairman Genachowski:

RE: GN Docket 09-191; WC Docket No. 07-52

Attached please find tens of thousands of signatures from Americans who have urged Washington policymakers to create rules that protect real Net Neutrality. We are concerned that the FCC is in the process of creating a rule that simply doesn't meet any meaningful standard of Net Neutrality protections.

Accordingly, over the course of the next two days, we will be submitting by hand two million signatures from members of the public who believe that the open Internet is vital to our future and must be protected.

Don't open the door for Internet Service Providers to engage in practices that will harm consumers by stifling free speech, equal opportunity and economic innovation. The public wants real Net Neutrality.

Respectfully submitted,

The SavetheInternet.com Coalition

For a complete list of members, visit: <http://www.savetheinternet.com/members>

NO. 01 G01 125 1000
LET ABCDE

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Dale fitschen
Oak Park, IL 60304

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Mary Hills
Fort Collins, CO 80521

"To the FCC: I thought that the U.S. was about freedom of speech. We preach it to other countries. We look askance at countries who censor their people's ability to hear, read, speak what they want; condemning them as totalitarian, etc. If the U.S. does not keep net neutrality, we will be no more than hypocrites. Corporations own and control enough of what we see, hear, read, and do. Do not let them control the Web as well. To quote an old song(thank you, Steppenwolf): The spirit was freedom and justice And it's keepers seem generous and kind It's leaders were supposed to serve the country But now they won't pay it no mind 'Cause the people grew fat and got lazy And now their vote is a meaningless joke They babble about law and order But it's all just an echo of what they've been told Our cities have turned into jungles And corruption is stranglin' the land The police force is watching the people And the people just can't understand We don't know how to mind our own business 'Cause the whole worlds got to be just like us Now we are fighting a war over there No matter who's the winner We can't pay the cost 'Cause there's a monster on the loose It's got our heads into a noose And it just sits there watching "

Cynthia Miller
San Diego, CA 92104

Deborah Brown
Wisconsin Rapids, WI 54494

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Heidi Rorick-Evans
North Hollywood, CA 91606

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Linda Kangrga
Columbia, MD 21044

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

John cantlon
Chimacum, WA 98325

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Elsie Hasling
Cupertino, CA 95014

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Leda Jahnke
Lena, WI 54139

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. More limitations on freedom... please NO. sincerely N J Jahnke 1750 Pine Meadow Dr Albany Or 97322 "

Nancy Jahnke
Albany, OR 97322

"To the FCC: The same way the phone and electric companies were obligated to serve the rural areas even though it was a financial hardship, the data suppliers (internet, cable) need to serve all URLs - large and small companies, all need to have equal band width and speed. It is our communication backbone and can not be distributed based on money or favoritism. "

Christine Hall
Goleta, CA 93117

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Phyllis wiener
New York, NY 10003

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Julie Gervais
Ferndale, MI 48220

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Ernest Todd
Delphi, IN 46923

"I am writing in support of net neutrality and am not in favor of corporate "gatekeepers" who have financial interests in mind. Please represent the large number of internet users who would benefit from an open internet. Thank you. "

Yvonne Mansell
Albany, CA 94706

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentive to limit a free-flowing web. "

James Lewis
Corrales, NM 87048

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. Sincerely, Brooks Elms LA, CA 91303"

Brooks Elms
Canoga Park, CA 91303

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Issy Ramos
East Greenwich, RI 02818

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

John Alden
Chicago, IL 60611

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Paul Best
San Diego, CA 92103

"We NEED Net Neutrality. This is one of the most under-reported issues of our day, The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Will Menta
Kalamazoo, MI 49009

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Kaaren Graham
Portland, OR 97225

Ginger Foley
Rossville, IN 46065

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Mike bleyer
Lebanon, PA 17046

"To the FCC: I Thank You in advance for taking action by keeping Net Neutrality at the heart of the Internet. The United States should be a Leader by Example in this arena by keeping the Internet Free of Restrictions by Gatekeepers in Business and Government. The United States should NOT be a Follower copying Restrictions and Lockouts as they do in China, North Korea and other Non-Democratic countries. Keeping the Internet Infrastructure Open and Free would truly be the Patriotic decision and a Shining Beacon for the rest of the World to follow as we move forward into the second decade of the 21st Century. Thank You for Your Heartfelt Consideration in this Very Important matter. Respectfully, George S. Guida Honesdale, PA 18431"

George Guida
Honesdale, PA 18431

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Stephan Ceci
Long Beach, CA 90815

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentive to limit a free-flowing web. "

Ann Marie Testa
Villa Park, IL 60181

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Don Majors
Savanna, IL 61074

"To the FCC: Net neutrality is vital to maintaining freedom and democracy on the most important medium of communication for the coming century. Unless you firmly commit to maintaining this crucial standard, you are helping concentrate power in the hands of a few and un-democratizing communication in our country (even more than it already is). The internet is the most important exception to the pay-to-play system of communication in the United States (radio, print, television). Preserve it! Thank you."

Benjamin Hall
Providence, RI 02905

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web."

Diane Rosin
Charlottesville, VA 22901

"To the FCC: Net neutrality is at the heart of the Internet. It's why the Internet has been such a powerful engine for free speech, democratic participation and economic innovation. Net neutrality is about giving citizens the information and tools they need to hold their leaders accountable and shape the decisions affecting their lives. The Internet is an essential infrastructure for democracy. Companies want to be Internet gatekeepers, deciding which Web sites go fast or slow and which won't load at all. Such online discrimination should not be tolerated. Jason Knopp"

Jason Knopp
Vancouver, WA 98665

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web."

Hilary Gold
Shokan, NY 12481

"To the FCC: This is America, keep your hands off my internet content."

Dave Swank
Pittsburgh, PA 15241

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web."

Emelyne Woessner
Madison, WI 53704

"Please let us keep our internet. It is one of the few places we truly have freedom of speech without censorship. The companies who want this legislation will use it to discriminate against those of us who use sites outside their purvey. The internet belongs to the people, not to profit-motivated corporations. Please, please, please."

Barbara Sockey
Potomac Falls, VA 20165

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web."

Harvey addie
Stockton, CA 95204

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web."

Pamela Edwards
Fort Collins, CO 80521

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web."

L McMath
Lafayette, CO 80026

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web."

Verna Frisco
Morgantown, WV 26501

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web."

Michelle Lydon
Great Barrington, MA 01230

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web."

Nancy Murphy
Glen Ellyn, IL 60137

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web."

John Stirton
Oakland, CA 94602

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web."

Vicki Michels
Shoreline, WA 98133

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Stephen Jackson
Woodridge, IL 60517

John Barker
Honolulu, HI 96822

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Marianne Scheele
Madison, WI 53711

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Jim Buchanan
Kokomo, IN 46902

"To the FCC: Making sure the Web stays neutral will be the key to our success economically and politically. It was designed to be so and should not be compromised by corporate interests. "

Jessica Irish
New York, NY 10011

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Sandra Lubrano
Marlton, NJ 08053

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. A free-flowing web is critical to our economic recovery. Stifling access in any way would cause countless small business people to lose revenue. Websites like www.etsy.com and www.squidoo.com allow people to make a living or supplement their income utilizing the internet as a showroom for their handmade, quality products. Additionally, any attempts to limit access to websites would, in effect, be corporate censorship that would undermine our first amendment rights to free speech and to peaceably assemble. I SUPPORT THE RECLASSIFICATION OF BROADBAND INTERNET PROVIDERS IN ORDER TO IMPOSE NET NEUTRALITY. "

Jennifer Stephens
Missoula, MT 59808

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Jennifer Wilson
Burbank, CA 91505

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Lalith Narayan
Fremont, CA 94536

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Elizabeth Burruss
Los Angeles, CA 90039

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Mark Westley
Alameda, CA 94501

"To the FCC: allowing utilities to censor internet content violates our first amendment rights! Please enforce net neutrality!"

Robert hairman
La, CA 90065

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Bryan dobson
Salt Lake City, UT 84106

"To the FCC: I'm thinking about what Thomas Paine might have said in this situation. Our print media and television is already owned by the talking heads. They have their section of the sandbox. Leave the Internet alone. Sincerely, Jim Breithaupt Phoenix, AZ"

James Breithaupt
Phoenix, AZ 85015

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Tom Dudley
Weaverville, NC 28787

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Mary Arutunian
Santa Monica, CA 90404

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Martha Work
Louisville, KY 40206

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Patrick R norha
Cloquet, MN 55720

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Sarah moon
Seattle, WA 98102

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Ivona Boroje
Chelsea, MA 02150

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Sharon Eno
Shoreline, WA 98155

"The Internet is not a newspaper, magazine or other periodical paid for by subscription. The Internet offers freedom of thought and we, the viewing public, are allowed to read and write what we choose, all sides being involved, to form a personal opinion. If you give a company that is very close to being a monopoly the right to pick and choose, you have seriously compromised our freedoms. Net neutrality is the right thing to do. "

Phyllis Benanti
Salem, OR 97304

"To the FCC: Net neutrality is at the heart of the Internet. It's why the Internet has been such a powerful engine for free speech, democratic participation and economic innovation. DON'T let big telecoms control it! PLEASE! "

Eric Rheinheimer
Oakland, CA 94611

"To the FCC: Allowing any corporate or government entity to control and censor what is sent out by other companies or organizations goes against the 1st amendment. Telecoms provide a service, but have nothing to do with providing content. Provided the content in question does not violate any existing laws, no one has the right to censor it. Telecoms have already shown that they would use their power to prevent people from speaking out for/against particular issues, such as women's reproductive rights or our political leaders. I am tired of living in a country where people are afraid of the ideas of others. Freedom of speech is of vital importance in preventing discrimination, oppression, and other forms of totalitarianism. All voices, esp. those we disagree with, need to be heard. Please do the right thing and prevent special interests from censoring the voices of the people. "

Kathleen Soule
Hoboken, NJ 07030

"I do not like the idea of corporately controlled internet, especially when it comes to media-control - the desire to put bottom lines ahead of objectivity in news is too strong for today's corporate-owned media companies - and the internet is an important check against that desire to edit and obscure. "

Jason Blankenship
Oklahoma City, OK 73104

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Judith Wise
Howe, IN 46746

Steven Tarlow
Spokane, WA 99208

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Sherman Sutherland
Lancaster, OH 45701

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Briah Jardin
Denver, CO 80231

"Net neutrality is consistent with protections guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States of America. It is also the right thing to do to ensure continuing growth of educational opportunities, entrepreneurship, and civic engagement. Do not let the corporate lobbies undermine the national interest on this one. "

Ed Webb
Carlisle, PA 17013

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Libee Uhuru
Ukiah, CA 95482

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Patricia Weston
Ballwin, MO 63021

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Ron white
Peterborough, NH 03458

"To the FCC: It's so sad to think how far TV has come from being a truly public entity. Please don't do the same with our Internet. Net neutrality is a vital part of maintaining our eroding democracy. Please don't sell out our freedom of information. "

Suan Bates
Atlanta, GA 30312

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Anne Lawson
Lynnwood, WA 98036

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Sarah Palmer
Brooklyn, NY 11205

"To the FCC: Please keep the internet a place where ideas can be shared openly. The way we would like our society. Not limited and closed. Thanks you. "

Shawn Fierro
Corralitos, CA 95076

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Dave Wohlleb
Louisville, KY 40220

"Please make sure we get and keep a free and open internet!  The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Katie Bretsch
Portland, OR 97214

"To the FCC: I am tired of being under the hammer of Big Business. Let Freedom Reign!"

Bill Macdonald
Gig Harbor, WA 98332

"The dangers of not preserving net neutrality are enormous. The internet is truly an opportunity for individuals rather than giant conglomerates to freely communicate, network and support FREE enterprise. Too long corporate and media giants have endeavored to stifle the true entrepreneurial spirit of the "people." Please enforce the neutrality safeguards that preserve the principle that Internet users should be in control, not the service providers. Thank you"

Lynn Altman
Corrales, NM 87048

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Alan Foreman
Brooklyn, NY 11217

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Nicole dorio
Rocky Hill, CT 06067

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentive to limit a free-flowing web. "

Benjamin Russo
San Francisco, CA 94117

"The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. Net neutrality is very important."

Brent Simon
Woodland Hills, CA 91364

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Anastasia Lang
San Diego, CA 92117

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Nathan Bruss
Hanska, MN 56041

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. " Laura Lewis Harrisonburg, VA 22801	"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. " David Culp Davie, FL 33324	"TV and radio are dominated by right wingers that constantly spread lies and fear. It is urgent that we keep net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentive to limit a free-flowing web. " Gail Payne Centerport, NY 11721
"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentive to limit a free-flowing web. " Sarah Burkett Topeka, KS 66618	"To the FCC: Free internet is part of free speech and freedom of information." Elana Robinson-Lynch San Francisco, CA 94103	"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentive to limit a free-flowing web. " Scott Purcell Gainesville, FL 32601
"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. " Rachel Russell Frisco, TX 75034	"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. " Jim Casler Newton, NJ 07860	"To the FCC: Please don't kill one of our last frontiers of creativity and communication. Freedom of information is already at risk; keep the Net neutral." Judi Paul Trinidad, CA 95570
"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. " Dimid Hayes Santa Fe, NM 87505	"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. " Nahid Varjavand Sf, CA 94124	"To the FCC: Net neutrality is about giving citizens the information and tools they need to hold their leaders accountable and shape the decisions affecting their lives. The Internet is an essential infrastructure for democracy. Please uphold the freedoms and rights of the people, not the interests of the corporations." Joseph Rizzo Hamilton, NJ 08690
"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. " Diane Jenkins Port St Lucie, FL 34953	"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. " Terry Andrews Houston, TX 77008	"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. " Michele Edwards Poway, CA 92064
	"Don't let companies be the internet gatekeepers. Their own profit driven motives only serve to slow innovation and increase costs for something that will otherwise decrease in cost. Keep their grubby mitts off the internet. Classify the internet providers as telecom carriers so the FCC can represent the best interests of the people and we can all continue to benefit." Charles Clark Las Vegas, NV 89147

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Marie Black
Portland, OR 97213

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Shane Koss
Brooklyn, NY 11211

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Martin Lefkowitz
Oakland, CA 94611

"To the FCC: The internet has been a powerful engine for free speech, democratic participation, and economic innovation because it has been neutral. This neutrality is about giving citizens the information and tools they need to be informed and, when necessary, hold their leaders accountable and shape the decisions that affect their lives. It is an essential infrastructure for Democracy in the 21st Century. Companies want to become gatekeepers of the internet so that they can decide which Web sites go at which rate and which won't go at all. This type of on-line discrimination would greatly damage free speech and access to information for Americans. It should not be tolerated."

Margo Morado
Albuquerque, NM 87107

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Otto Neals
Brooklyn, NY 11225

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentive to limit a free-flowing web. "

Jacob Withee
Norridgewock, ME 04957

"To the FCC: I am the owner and operator of the indie animation website dailymonster.com. I depend on net neutrality so that my bandwidth heavy original content has a shot at competing. That cannot happen if my service provider is allowed to charge me a hefty premium for bandwidth or speed of access. Please protect net neutrality as a basic, level playing field in the spirit of American ingenuity and enterprise. Net neutrality is at the heart of the Internet. It's why the Internet has been such a powerful engine for free speech, democratic participation and economic innovation. Net neutrality is about giving citizens the information and tools they need to hold their leaders accountable and shape the decisions affecting their lives. The Internet is an essential infrastructure for democracy. Companies want to be Internet gatekeepers, deciding which Web sites go fast or slow and which won't load at all. Such online discrimination should not be tolerated. Please help! Please stand firm! Please keep the internet level!"

Stefan Bucher
Pasadena, CA 91103

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Jenn Sedik
Chicago, IL 60640

"I believe that the neutrality of the Net actually protects rather than threatens free speech online. I believe that Internet users, not Internet providers, should have control of the Net. If Internet providers are in control, they can speed up, slow down, or block Web content. That kind of control is not what the American people want, or deserve. We need the FCC to act now to keep the Internet open and free for our use. Be on the side of the people not big business! Sincerely, John Puffenbarger 46 Rohr Avenue Buckhannon, WV 26201 jlpuff@cebridge.net"

John Puffenbarger
Buckhannon, WV 26201

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Kane Mantyla
El Cerrito, CA 94530

"To the FCC: "
Rose Maney
Milwaukee, WI 53222

"To the FCC: "
Lorelei Monet
Los Osos, CA 93402

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Annie cowan
Redding, CA 96002

"To the FCC: As a person in his early 20s, I have spent majority of my life interacting with computers and using the internet to learn and become a responsible citizen. By experiencing the liberating power of the web, I have no doubt in my mind that telecommunications corporations should have no direct administering privileges of the content of the web. These entities have enormous amounts of wealth which can already be used to influence what we see and hear over a variety of media, but this indirect influence should not become direct. In my humble opinion, this would be an infringement on free speech, for what is free speech if that very speech cannot be communicated free of the profit motive. "

Daniel Kowalczyk
Everett, WA 98204

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Elizabeth Wallner
Sacramento, CA 95820

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Joshua strauser
Shawnee On Delaware, PA 18356

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Nicholas Shapiro
Atlanta, GA 30309

"To the FCC: Is it not the duty of the FCC to regulate US communication services? I say that one important end of this regulation is to enforce what is being called "Net Neutrality." Have we not seen in US history, both recent and longer-term, that unregulated large corporations do not act in the public interest? Indeed, that is not their purpose. Companies make money for owners. Government watches out for citizens' interests. It is in the interest of US citizens that those who control the communications services NOT control or even influence their content. Isn't that the concept of "common carrier"? Like the phone companies or the delivery services, they carry whatever they are paid to carry equally quickly and efficiently, without favoring one or another message or package. Allowing private companies to control the flow of information is, I believe, contrary to the spirit and purpose of the US Constitution. First Amendment speech protections ensure a free and lively marketplace of ideas. Due to human technological evolution, that marketplace is now on the Internet. I think it's essential that the FCC recognizes this and protects it. It has been working wonderfully as a way to connect remote individuals, empower small groups, foster national discussions, search out and expose crimes and corruption, examine ideas, etc. Why choke this lively activity off? That will happen if only popular or commercially advantageous or politically safe messages are facilitated, and others left to languish on slower channels. Instead, I urge the FCC to protect and expand this excellent tool, in the spirit of democracy. Thank you for your attention."

Geo Epsilon
San Francisco, CA 94107

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Patrick Hanley
West Pelzer, SC 29669

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Sue Sanders
Portland, OR 97202

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Robin Spock
Spring Valley, NY 10977

"To the FCC: Net neutrality is at the heart of the Internet. It's why the Internet has been such a powerful engine for free speech, democratic participation and economic innovation. Net neutrality is about giving citizens the information and tools they need to hold their leaders accountable and shape the decisions affecting their lives. The Internet is an essential infrastructure for democracy. Companies want to be Internet gatekeepers, deciding which Web sites go fast or slow and which won't load at all. Such online discrimination should not be tolerated."

Bruce Cowan
Costa Mesa, CA 92627

"What if the phone company made you sit on hold for a minute each time you called someone out of your network? That would be wrong, just like letting internet providers decide which content can be seen more quickly. The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Erin Van Amburg
Tacoma, WA 98405

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now do everything in its power to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers, including reclassifying broadband Internet providers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Kristin russell
Portland, OR 97218

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Janet Cox
Gilbert, AZ 85234

"The public has spoken out decisively and in huge numbers in support of net neutrality. The FCC must now act to keep the Internet open and free of corporate gatekeepers. I urge you to side with Internet users like me who favor a free and open Internet, instead of corporate interests who have financial incentives to limit a free-flowing web. "

Wildsparrow@Gmail.Com Davenport
Poughkeepsie, NY 12601